Modern Account Terms and Conditions: Modern Account is a current account which also accrues O/N interest at the end of the day for the balances between lower and upper limits set by the Bank. Current accounts in Turkish Lira (TL), American Dollar (USD), Euro (EUR) and English Sterling (GBP) can be defined as Modern Account. Only one Modern Account can be defined in each currency and if a joint, child or guardian account is defined as Modern Account, holders cannot have another current account as Modern Account in the same currency. Modern Account may be defined through branch, internet, telephone and mobile banking.

An "Active Account (automatic fund account)" can also be defined as Modern Account. In that case, "Active Account" will be terminated, the automatic fund purchase/sale will cease and the account will start to earn overnight (O/N) interest. If direct debit and utility bill payment orders are set up from this account, sufficient balance should be deposited into the account in order to ensure that all payments are made fully.

There are pre-set lower and upper Modern Account limits for each currency and interest is accrued only for the account balance within these limits. The Bank may differentiate lower and upper limits according to customer segments. The lower and upper limits may be changed by the Bank and customers are notified via remote communication channels. Customers may also change Modern Account's lower limits as long as the updated limit stays above the lower limits defined by the Bank, however the upper limits cannot be changed by the customer. Modern Account lower and upper limits defined by the Bank are stated in the below table.

Currency	Lower Limit	Upper Limit
TL	3,000	1,000,000
USD	2,000	150,000
EUR	2,000	150,000
GBP	2,000	150,000

The end of day process is carried out between 22:00-02:00 and these times may differ due to system operation. Customers may access to their total Modern Account balance along the day but cannot access to balance within the defined lower and upper limits during the end of day process. Following the completion of end of day process, the balance is transferred to account with the accrued interest. The balance within lower and upper limits deposited to Modern Account after 17:00 starts to earn interest starting from the following day. No interest is accrued on the blocked balance in Modern Account.

Modern Account Fees and Interest Rates: There is no entrance fee for Modern Account. There must be a valid current account in respective currency to define a Modern Account.
